

Contents

Acronyms	iv
1. Introduction	1
2. Historical context – “where we came from”	3
2.1 General comments	3
2.2 Changing paradigms	3
2.3 The introduction of CITES	3
2.4 The impact of CITES on the reptile skin trade	4
2.5 The future impact of CITES on the reptile skin trade	4
3. The current status of trade – “where we are now”	7
3.1 Crocodilians	7
3.2 Lizards	8
3.3 Snakes	9
4. The future – “where we go from here?”	11
4.1 The need for a multi-stakeholder forum with strong industry involvement	11
4.2 Legal versus illegal trade under CITES	11
4.3 Certification	12
4.4 The dilemma of captive breeding	12
4.5 Improving compliance with CITES	13
4.6 Increasing concerns about animal welfare	13
4.7 Identification difficulties	13
4.8 Understanding supply chains	14
4.9 Education and communication	16
REFERENCES	17