

Contents

Summary . . . . .	3
Acknowledgements . . . . .	4
Preamble . . . . .	5
Aims and methods . . . . .	7
Globalization . . . . .	9
Global health systems . . . . .	11
Europe and its health systems . . . . .	13
Globalization and health systems . . . . .	16
Centrality of the patient and European values . . . . .	20
Patient mobility . . . . .	21
Health workforce migration . . . . .	23
Innovation and IT . . . . .	26
Challenges and opportunities . . . . .	30
The global health market . . . . .	31
The good leader and systems-thinker . . . . .	33
Benchmarking performance . . . . .	35
Innovation in partnerships . . . . .	36
European health systems for the future . . . . .	37
References . . . . .	40
Appendix 1 – Table 1: Health systems indicators in Europe . . . . .	45
Appendix 2 – Table 2: Policy interventions and health worker migration . . . . .	46
Appendix 3 – Useful web sites . . . . .	47

Author

Göran Tomson is Professor of International Health Systems Research at the Division of Global Health (IHCAR) and Director of the Doctoral Programme of the Medical Management Centre, Karolinska Institutet, Stockholm, Sweden.