

Contents

Acknowledgements	11
Introduction	13
Ethiopia in Academic Discourse	13
The Functionalist Paradigm.....	18
The Instrumentalist Paradigm.....	19
Why A Theological Turn? Why Political Theology?	21
A Hermeneutical Approach	23
Theology and Social Theories	24
Theoretical Frameworks	27
Outline of the Argument	28
Part I Imaginative Practices	33
1 Ideology and Identity	35
1.1 Introduction.....	35
1.2 A Materialist Account of Ideology.....	35
1.3 Interpellation and Identity.....	41
1.4 Ideological Apparatuses and Practices	46
1.5 Conclusion	49
2 Technologies of the Self	53
2.1 Introduction.....	53
2.2 Self-techniques and Modern Identities	53
Confessional Technologies.....	55
Self-Writing.....	57
2.3 Ethics as Practices of Freedom	59
2.4 The Logic of Subjectivisation	63
2.5 Conclusion	66
3 Agency and the Self	67
3.1 Introduction.....	67
3.2 Preliminary Remarks on Ricoeur's Action Theory.....	67

3.3 Narrative Identity and Ideology	71
3.4 Utopian Imagination.....	74
3.5 Conclusion	80
Reflections on Part I.....	81
Part II Ethno-political Imagination.....	85
4 The Politics of Integration:
The Emergence of Homo Æthiopicus	87
4.1 Introduction.....	87
4.2 The Narrative of Greater Ethiopia	87
4.3 The Imaginary Singularity of Ethiopians.....	92
4.4 Nationalistic Absorption of Christian Identity	100
4.5 The Imagination of National Self-determination	104
The National Question	106
Practices of War.....	107
The Crisis of Multi-ethnic Politics.....	109
4.6 Conclusion	112
5 Ethno-politics:
The Ethiopian as Homo Ethnicus	115
5.1 Introduction.....	115
5.2 Modes of Self-Writing and Polarised Subjectivities.....	115
The Narrative of Colonisation (Oromia).....	116
The Narrative of Domination.....	121
Truth Regimes and War of Memories	127
5.3 Self, Federal Polity and the Global Order	129
Enacting the Federal Body Politic.....	129
New Trends and Federal Politics.....	133
5.4 A Turn to Metaphysics: Re-enchanting Tradition	135
The Traditional Matrix.....	136
A Return to the Source	140
Back to the Stalemate?	141
5.5 Conclusion	144
Reflections on Part II	146
Part III Theo-political Imagination.....	149
6 Theological Introduction.....	151

7 Divine-Humanity and Agency	165
7.1 Introduction.....	165
7.2 Two-Sophias Christology and Cosmic-mediation	166
The Problem of Divine-Human Unity and Chalcedon.....	166
The Sophianicity of the Divine and the Human	170
Double Kenosis.....	172
7.3 The Event as Task: A Metanoic Re-turn to the Event.....	174
7.4 Conclusion	179
8 A Christian Social Ontology	181
8.1 Introduction.....	181
8.2 Trinity and Ontology	182
Personhood and Differentiated-Unity in the Holy Trinity.....	183
In the Image of the Holy Trinity	187
8.3 The Ontology of Work.....	192
8.4 States of Peace and Privation	197
Evil and the Concept of Limitation	197
Freedom or Self-determination.....	199
8.5 The Church as Counter-polity	200
Holy Corporeality: The Sobornost' of the Church	202
Noumenal Ontologism: Enacting Sobornost'	204
8.6 Conclusion	208
9 The Politics of Metanoia	211
9.1 Introduction.....	211
9.2 The Metanoic Community	212
A Metanoic Return: Towards a Christian Culture of the Self	212
Solidarity beyond the Ethnos	215
9.3 Metanoia and the Kingdom	219
9.4 Sobornost' , Free Theocracy?.....	223
9.5 Conclusion	226
Reflections on Part III.....	227
Conclusion	229
Bibliography	233