

Content

Foreword by Silvan Blumenthal	9
 DESIGN	 13
Design Is Invisible (1980)	15
Invisible Design (1983)	27
Criteria For A New Design (1977)	36
On the Design of Everyday Life (1979)	40
Design—Rite and Expression of a Hopeful Society (1984)	51
Design Implies Processes, Not Just Forms! (1970)	55
The Grammar of Reality (1967)	58
Urban Design and Its Significance for Residents (1975)	61
Heritage Preservation Is Social Policy (1976)	68
The Shortsighted and the Farsighted (1978)	83
Quality ... (1967)	89
On the Production of Counter-productivity (1998)	92
There's Nothing Simple about Simplicity (1998)	96
All Over the Place (1994)	103
An Ecological Innovation (1994)	116
 SOCIETY	 121
Good Taste (1986)	123
Can A Shift In Tastes Be Planned? (1984)	138

Beyond Utility Value (1986)	142
... In Our Minds (1987)	148
Dirt (1980)	155
The Night Is Man-made (1989)	159
Fake: The Real Thing (1987)	169
Recycled Regionalism (1984)	176
How Does Trash End Up In Museums? (1989)	183
Color Is A Sign (1994)	191
Good Form and Good Color (1994)	200
Bad Form (1994)	202
A Walk in Second Nature (1992)	205

EDUCATION	215
-----------	-----

University Planning and Urban Planning (1968)	217
Ulm Anno 5. On the Curriculum of the Ulm School of Design (1960)	236
The Exhibition Medium (1965)	244
documenta urbana—What Could That Mean? (1982)	253
To Expect Quick Results from the Planned Reform Is to Underestimate the Braking Forces (1972)	258
From Design Academicism to the Treatment of Wicked Problems (1973)	260
On the Difficulty of Teaching Modesty (1979)	267
The Minimal Intervention (1982)	273
75 Years of Bauhaus—On the Tame Approach to the Wicked Problem (1994)	280

Not A New Bauhaus! (1993)	287
A University Must Foster a Sense of Belonging and Hone Resistance at One and the Same Time (1996)	291
Do Examinations Make for a Better Education? (1996)	302
Problem-oriented Project-based Teaching (1999)	304
The Sermon Given in St. Jacob's Church, Weimar, June 30, 1994	313
 Bibliography	 320
Biographies	328
Index	330