

Table of contents

List of boxes and illustrations	7
List of abbreviations	8
About the authors	9
Introduction	11
Objectives and findings	12
The origins of Libya's hybrid security sector	14
Competing legitimacies: revolutionary vs. legal authority	14
The thuwwar and post-revolutionary armed groups	16
The state security sector	20
The emergence of hybrid institutions	21
The challenge of integration and the path to disintegration	23
Rifts through government institutions	24
Ill-fated reform attempts	26
Case studies: the SSC, the LSF, and the armed forces	30
The Supreme Security Committee	30
Membership	31
Interests and factions	32
Dissolving the SSC	35
The Libya Shield Forces	39
Political alignments	43
The fragmentation of the LSF	46
'Operation Libya Dawn': LSF factions form a political alliance	50
The armed forces	53
Post-revolution politicking	54
The factionalization of the army	55
Intensifying struggles	57
'Operation Dignity': rifts emerge into the open	60

Conclusion	64
Annexe 1 – Coordination or control: hybrid units and their government contracts	66
Endnotes	73
Bibliography	86
Publications list	97