

CONTENTS

1	Introductory Themes	1
	Sahar Khamis and Amel Mili
Part 1	Unfinished Political Revolutions	25
2	Citizenship and Gender Equality in the Cradle of the Arab Spring	27
	Amel Mili
3	Voices Shouting for Reform: The Remaining Battles for Bahraini Women	53
	Nada Alwadi and Sahar Khamis
4	Lebanese Women's Rights Beyond the Cedar Revolution	73
	Rita Stephan
5	Women's Space After the Arab Spring: Can We Generalize?	89
	Deborah Harrold

Part 2 Unfinished Social Revolutions	109
6 Religious Discourses and Gender Dynamics: Reflections on the Arab Spring	111
Asma Nourira
7 “I Am Untouchable!” Egyptian Women’s War Against Sexual Harassment	131
Nahed Eltantawy
8 Stealth Revolution: Saudi Women’s Ongoing Social Battles	149
Namie Tsujigami
9 Social Media, Social Learning Systems, and the Women’s Movement in Tunisia After the Jasmine Revolution	167
Sana Jelassi
Part 3 Unfinished Legal Revolutions	195
10 Gendering the Law in Egypt: A Tale of Two Constitutions	197
Lubna Fröhlich (Azzam)
11 From Lalla Batoul to Oum Hamza: New Trends in Moroccan Women’s Fight for Citizenship	219
Brahim El Guabli
12 Concluding Remarks: What’s Next?	241
Sahar Khamis and Amel Mili
Index	253