

Note

This paper has been presented at the 5th Global Conference on Transparency Research held at the University of Limerick, Ireland (June 19-21, 2017). A short and revised version has been published in the International Review of Administrative Sciences (IRAS) with Dr. B. G. Kakpovi & Prof. B. Cottier: see <http://journals.sagepub.com/doi/abs/10.1177/0020852318762039>.

Table of contents

1. Introduction
2. Access to Information laws in the world
3. Development of Access to Information laws in the world
4. Access to Information in Benin
5. Implementation of Access to Information laws in the world
6. Research questions
7. Methodology
8. Findings
9. Limitations and discussion
10. Conclusion
11. References

Tables

- Table 1. ATI laws in the world. Categories and examples
- Table 2. Forms of study in diffusion of FOI laws research
- Table 3. The emergence of FOI laws. Factors and examples
- Table 4. Types of impediment to transparency (based on Villeneuve & Pasquier, 2007)
- Table 5. ATI laws and early implementation problems in four jurisdictions

Maps

- Map 1. Enforcement of ATI laws in the world, per period (1766-2017)